

2012

Our Commitment to Privacy

The Edmonton Nature Club is committed to protecting the privacy of its members, volunteers, donors and program participants.

We collect your personal information:

- To be able to communicate with you
- To inform you about club activities, meetings and events
- To confirm registration in club trips and events
- To comply with legal and insurance requirements

We do not rent, share, sell or trade our mailing lists and other personal data.